Southeast Asia Bridge Cruise Itinerary

All games are open pairs
Classes are intermediate

Feb 29: Singapore

Singapore's history is one of riches and romance, spice trading and piracy, colonialism and growth. Temples, mosques and churches stand as serene reminders of the varied collection of migrations that have graced its history. Discover the mansions and polo greens of colonial Singapore, the mystique of Chinatown and the heady aroma of spices and curry along Arab Street. You will quickly come to understand why Singapore is acclaimed as the "Crossroads of the East."

Mar 2: Cruising the Malaysian Peninsula

Mar 4: Bangkok

This "City of Angels" is a lustrous city of immense Oriental charm, festooned with ornate temples, shrines and a lacework of canals. Sunlight glistens on the majestic Royal Palace and boats laden with produce drift up and down the canals. Shining through this dream-like setting is the hospitality and warmth of the gentle Thais. These talented people have raised folk dance to high art, created mouth-watering cuisine and built a splendid capital, unique in all the world.

Mar 6: Cruising South East Asia

Mar 7: Saigon

Over four decades have passed since American forces left these shores. Since then, Saigon has regained a prosperous air of thriving activity. Visitors can be assured of a friendly and hospitable welcome.

"My first night in Saigon, I started hearing scooters. I looked out our hotel window and there were dozens of young guys with their gals riding on back. It was Valentine's Day and love was in the air." - Jeff

Mar 8: Cruising the Vietnamese Coast

Mar 9: Hue/Hoi An, Vietnam

When Columbus was discovering America, the Portuguese found Hoi An. This lovely village preserves the history of that time. Dine at a French chateau along the river. The clothing shops will create clothes for you out of material you select – same day! The ancient capital of Hue is a short distance away.

"At 10pm, as my wife and I dined at a lovely French chateau over looking the Thu Bồn River, two Vietnamese girls in lovely white dresses rode right up to our table on their moped, "Here is your new custom made shirt that you ordered today!" - Jeff

Mar 10: Hanoi (Ha Long Bay), Vietnam

Nothing can prepare you for the beauty of Ha Long Bay and its 2,000 limestone karsts. Its emerald waters and thousands of towering limestone are topped by rainforests – remember the movie Avatar? Imagine a stroll through a mysterious cave.

"In the morning, we boarded a junk boat and headed out to sea. Soon, we sailed around a few islands. On the other side was a little town, only this town was not on or even attached to an island. It was entirely at sea! Many barges were linked up. There was a bank, a school and plenty of fresh fish. Hanoi is a day trip away." - Jeff

Mar 12: Cruising the South China Sea

Mar 13: Hong Kong

Although Hong Kong has returned to its original Chinese roots, it still remains a cosmopolitan city with influences, languages and accents from around the world. Here East meets West and the result is electric. The bustling city streets are lined with teeming markets and sophisticated boutiques tucked tightly into any available crevice. Some of the world's best shopping is found in Central, located on Hong Kong Island and only a short ferry ride away.
